

"Food for Thought" Fridays

Every new year brings a fresh new outlook, and at The Ridge we value keeping a balance between the old and the new and pride ourselves in maintaining an energy and vibe that our customers can count on. We also make it a priority to keep some balance in our personal lives in a business that makes that challenging to say the least!

While we take a break and prepare for another great season of the stellar outdoor events that you love, we will be winding down our winter hours to be open only on Fridays – 4pm to Midnight - starting February 7th. "Food For Thought" Fridays is an innovative, creative focus on thoughtfully prepared family recipes (yes, that includes bacon!) in a limited menu format. I'll be doing the cooking myself with some help from friends and long-time members of The Ridge family. It's a bit like having people over for dinner but never really knowing how many will show up, so our apologies if we run out of anything! You can still count on great live music from 8-11pm, a warm fire, drink specials and plenty of the good juju that we're known for.

Thanks for being with us - Enjoy!
